Coronavirus (COVID-19) Update

Scanivalve Corp. remains open for business during the COVID-19 “Coronavirus” pandemic. Scanivalve supports many industries worldwide but specifically our involvement in the defense and transportation markets require that we remain operational as an “essential business.” We are working diligently to meet demands for orders, support users, and help with any inquiries or orders. We are still able to perform all daily functions and our supply chain remains robust.

The health and safety of our employees is paramount, and we are complying with local, state, and federal U.S. Government recommendations. Precautions are being taken to safeguard employee’s health and well-being as well as ensure that our customers remain supported. At this time, all business travel domestically and internationally has been indefinitely suspended and we are unable to support customer or supplier face-to-face visits.

Scanivalve wishes to extend our prayers and best wishes to everyone impacted by the global pandemic. We will provide periodic updates as this fluid situation evolves and we will work to reach out to any customers directly regarding delayed orders should that be required. For the latest information on the response to COVID-19 from Scanivalve, please check the Scanivalve website. Should you have any specific questions, please feel encouraged to contact us directly via email, phone, fax or through the website.

Regards,
Scanivalve Corp
